

Our group within WEST Consultants is focused on small, medium, and large-scale restoration projects focused on soil health. We are creating and utilizing biological soil health amendments to promote the restoration of desert vegetation to mitigate dust for highway safety, create native habitat on abandoned farmland, reduce flooding, and eliminate the use of chemicals in land management. I would like to explore research to evaluate the impact of biological soil health improvements on the presence and spread of Valley Fever.